

Kirin Health Declaration

To grow together with society in a sustainable manner, the Kirin Group contributes to the resolution of social issues related to health. As such, the Group places the utmost importance on maintaining the health and happiness of all of its employees so that they can enjoy their work. In addition to the efforts that Group employees make on their own to maintain their health, Groupwide efforts are being made to go beyond existing frameworks for occupational health and safety to actively provide support for the health and well-being of all employees.

Yoshinori Isozaki

President & CEO of Kirin Holdings

March 2017